Subject: The contractor shall provide the following services for the Biotechnology Outreach Program

The U.S. Embassy of Manila invites you to submit for Biotech Outreach program services.

Embassy Manila's 2020 Biotech Outreach Program
Scope of Work

Background

The Embassy seeks an organization to carry out a week-long series of online webinars with six targeted audiences across the Philippine government, research community, and agricultural universities on the topic of new breeding technologies and animal biotechnology. U.S. Embassy Manila was awarded funding from the Department of State's Bureau of Economic and Business Affairs to conduct biotech outreach from October 5 to 10, 2020, in continuation of its annual programming to inform stakeholders on new trends and dispel common misconceptions. The Embassy seeks an organization that is knowledgeable in biotechnology, has the requisite contacts in the key stakeholder groups, and the capacity to design, prepare, and implement a webinar series through a service contract.

Document Summary: Embassy Manila's prior biotech outreach successfully engaged executive and legislative officials, academic institutions, agricultural entrepreneurs, and the press in discussions on biotech regulatory issues, the science and strategic importance of biotech, and the health benefits for Filipinos, particularly regarding Bt eggplant and golden rice. Last year's successful outreach week focused on genome editing, while this year will center of animal biotechnology.

Program Stakeholders

The program will be a weeklong series of online webinars (October 5-10, 2020) of speaker presentations, expert roundtable discussions, and other engagements that will cultivate an evidence-based understanding of animal biotechnology, highlight the role of agricultural biotechnology in increasing food security, address regulatory barriers to trade, and promote a general appreciation and awareness of modern agricultural biotechnology trends. The following are a list of stakeholders with whom the program implementer shall engage:

- Philippine Congressional House & Senate Committees on Agriculture, Science & Tech, Ecology, Natural Resources, and Climate Change
- Judicial Academy of the Philippines, Court of Appeals, Special Environmental Courts
- Government of the Philippines (GPH) Department of Agriculture, Department of Science and Technology, and others involved in the Joint Department Circular
- Philippine Carabao Center and National Freshwater Fisheries Technology Center
- National Academy of Science and Technology and Biotechnology Coalition of the Philippines

- University of Philippines at Los Baños and Diliman, Central Luzon State University through the Southeast Asian Regional Center for Graduate Study and Research in Agriculture (SEARCA)

Program Details

With the continued challenges of COVID-19, this will be the first iteration of the annual biotech outreach that is not in person. Instead, the program will be fully digital, encompassing a series of discussions and presentations with two main speakers recruited by USDA/FAS on agricultural biotechnology. The two speakers, Martin Lema and Simon Lillico, have already confirmed their participation. The program implementer shall schedule six (6) webinars where Dr. Lema and Dr. Lillico will present on the topic of agricultural biotechnology and genetically modified animals.

The implementer will design the weeklong series, coordinating with the various stakeholder groups as noted above to maximize participation and program impact. There shall distinct webinars held for the six groups of stakeholders, with presentations tailored for each particular audience. The implementer will serve as the moderator for each seminar and therefore must be familiar with the topic so as to successfully navigate the occasionally technical discussions. Each webinar must provide sufficient time for a questions and answers session, with the implementer making sure speakers and other participants are keeping to the schedule. The implementer will conduct a survey after each seminar, with the results included in a final report presented to USDA/FAS.

Eligible Expenses

This service contract shall cover corresponding costs for implementing the webinar series, including:

- Fees for equipment use
- Internet connection
- Speaker fees, Provide Rate (php and USD) per speaker per webinar
- Other professional fees, including for facilitators/moderators, IT technicians, and other support staff
- Coordinating and facilitation fees for designing the overall program and its components
- Post-webinar activities, such as video editing and issuance of E-certificates
- Necessary software licenses to administer the webinars

Topics of Discussion

The program speakers are expected to address, among other issues:

- Overview of biotechnology applications for animals, including livestock and fish
- Explain animal biotechnology to a range of audiences with varying levels of understanding, and to highlight examples of how it could benefit Philippine agriculture and the wider population
- Biotechnology trends in developing countries
- Judicial and legislative processes involved in designing biotechnology regulations in developing countries
- Engage lay audiences in biotechnology, animal biotechnology, and gene editing

Embassy Manila's annual biotech outreach is a crucial piece of the USDA-Foreign Agricultural Service's stakeholder engagement. The implementer is expected to work closely with USDA/FAS in the run-up to the October 2020 program and through its completion.
